Virtual Events Software and Services Run by Women, Optimized for Everyone

With decades of industry experience, our all-female leadership team reinvigorated the EventBuilder brand in 2016 and turned it into the only 100% women-owned and led virtual events technology company, all while cultivating a “people first” approach to employee and customer relationships.

Currently, women comprise 85% of our workforce, people from diverse backgrounds make up 24% of our dedicated team, and they are employed at every level of the business.

Whether you’re doing one event or many, simple or complex, we understand the level of effort and professionalism needed to help you achieve your virtual event goals.
